CLIMAX MILLS INCORPORATED

Work On Building Will Begin as Soon as Site Is Decided Upon.

CAPITAL STOCK $50,000.

Board of Directors Will Be Chosen at Stockholders' Meeting June 12.

"Still they come!" And home capital is behind the new enterprises that come, one after another. The latest is the Climax Milling Co., with an authorized capital of $50,000. Its articles of incorporation were filed Saturday with the county clerk and the company, by the erection of a warehouse just as soon as a full force of hands can build it, will be prepared to receive and store the growing wheat crop. As soon as the company can definitely decide on one of the sites being considered the work of erecting the mill building will be commenced. When this is completed the machinery, which will be of the latest and most modern type, will be on hand for installation. It is the intention of the company to rush everything and begin making flour just as soon as possible. The capacity of the plant, when first put in, will be 350 barrels per day, with the possibility of being increased, when it is thought best, to 500.

Mr. Ross A. Rogers, one of the incorporators, has been eminently successful in disposing of the stock of the new enterprise and getting our own capitalists interested. For a while it looked as if every new industry that was to be put on foot was to be capitalized by outside men. "But things have changed." Everything new is to be done by home people and profits will remain at home instead of going east or somewhere else.

The incorporators of the Climax Mills, as will be seen from the following list, are men who are identified with the city's prosperity and will do anything in their power to advance the best interest of the people generally. The incorporators are: W. T. Cooper, James West, Moses L. Eib, J. T. Hanbery, G. L. Campbell, T. J. Tate, R. W. Ward, R. A. Rogers.

A meeting of the stockholders will be held June 12th for the purpose of electing a board of directors, and acting officers will be chosen after the directory organizes.

FOUR O'CLOCK WHISTLE

On Saturday Afternoons And What It Means.

Considerable stir was created last Saturday afternoon by the Forbes Manufacturing Company blowing their big whistle for knocking off work at 4:00 p. m.

When seen by a reporter, the management stated that it meant a free and voluntary gift to their men who had remained loyal to them in the late strike. They state that four o'clock will be the closing down hour on Saturday afternoons for the remainder of the current year and that the arrangement would, in all probability, be permanent.

This gives the regular employees, at the expense of the Company, two hours on Saturdays when they are running ten hours, and one hour when they cut down to nine hours in winter. The men are grateful for the change, and some of the pleasure was expressed by the whistle, which blew so loud and long as to occasion some alarm.

Though this gift seems a trifling matter to each individual operative, it is a very considerable present viewed from the Company's standpoint, as it means over $2,000 per annum to them.

PROVISIONS OF RATE BILL

Interstate Commerce Commission Given Wider Latitude.

FEW PASSES ALLOWED.

Senate Amendment includes Oil Pipe Lines and Common Carriers.

Washington, May 21.—The principal purpose of the Railroad Rate Bill, passed Saturday, is to permit the Interstate Commerce Commission to fix rates. The provision conferring this authority is found in the fourth section of the bill, which amends section 15 of the interstate commerce law so as to accomplish this result. The section directs the commission to investigate complaints of unjust and unreasonable charges on the part of common carriers in the transportation of persons or property or of regulations or of practices affecting such charges. It also authorizes an inquiry as to whether the rates or practices are unjustly discriminating or unduly preferential or prejudicial or otherwise in violation of the act, and in case any of these conditions are found to exist the commission is empowered to determine and prescribe what will be the just and reasonable maximum rate and what regulation or practice is just, reasonable and fair. Further authority is given the commission to enforce its orders and they are to go into effect within thirty days and continue in force for two years unless suspended, modified or set aside by the commission or by a court of competent jurisdiction. Other powers conferred by this section are: To apportion joint fares, establish through routes and maximum joint rates and prescribe their division and to determine the compensation to be paid to shippers doing service for carriers.

Pecuniary Damages.

Section 15 of the present law is so changed as to provide for an award of pecuniary damages to complainants found entitled and in case payment is not promptly made in accordance with this award the beneficiary is authorized to file suit in a United States circuit court to compel compliance. The finding of the commission is to be received as prima face of the facts in such suits and the petitioner is absolved from all liability for costs.

Another provision renders legal the service of the orders of the Commission through the mails and provides that these orders shall take effect thirty days after service, unless suspended or modified by the Commission or suspended or set aside by the courts. A penalty of $5,000 for each offense in disobedience of the order is imposed and the penalty is to accumulate at the rate of $5,000 a day in case of continuous violation. Orders other than those for money payments are to be enforced by the Federal courts through writs of mandamus or injunction and in case of appeal to the Supreme Court these cases are to be given precedence over all others except those of a criminal character.

The bill was amended by the Senate so as to give the United States circuit courts jurisdiction to entertain suits brought to annul or change the orders of the Commission and to provide against the granting of interlocutory decrees without hearings and making appeals from such orders direct to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Definite Provisions.

Other provisions extend the definition of the word railroads so as to make it include switches, spurs, tracks, terminal facilities, freight depots, yards and grounds and defines the word "transportation" so as to make it embrace cars and other facilities for shipment or carriage, "irrespective of ownership or of any contract," the intention being to make the railroads responsible for all special car service. It is made the duty of carriers to furnish special car service upon reasonable request.

Senate amendments include oil pipe lines, express companies and shipping car companies under the head of "common carriers" and make them amenable to the requirements of the bill. Other Senate modifications prohibit the issuance of passes or the granting of special favors to one class of passengers over another; prohibit railroad companies from transporting commodities produced by themselves; require such companies to put in switches at the reasonable request of shippers; prohibit the granting or acceptance of rebates and reinstate the imprisonment penalty for violation of the law.

Report Requirements.

There are also changes in the law relative to the reports to be required of common carriers and a penalty of $100 a day is imposed for failure to comply with the report requirements.

The commission is given access to the accounts of the companies affected by the act, but the examiners are forbidden under penalty of heavy fine and long imprisonment from divulging the facts ascertained. A fine of $500 for failure to keep proper accounts is provided. A falsification of accounts is made punishable by fine and imprisonment.

Circuit and district Courts of the United States are given jurisdiction over all complaints of the commission of failure to comply with its orders and such courts are required to issue writs of mandamus compelling such compliance.

AN OXFORD STUDENT

A GLIMPSE OF COLLEGE LIFE IN ENGLAND.

An American Student's Impression of the Famous University—Culture and Not Grammar—The Air of Ease.

The first thing that strikes an American student beginning study at this famous university, is that everything is so awfully English, you know.

There is the hospitality, there is the daily afternoon tea, and there is the wine drinking. Also, what specially impresses the American is the large ease of the time—very different from the strenuousness of many seats of learning.

We were not a little interested in reading a recent article on "Our Rhodes Scholars at Oxford," and noting what impression the air of ease had made on one American student. This young gentleman observed: "If a man seeks for mere book learning it would perhaps be wiser for him to go to Chicago, Paris or Heidelberg—where he can have his wants served strictly a la carte in modern style—than to come to Oxford. What Oxford has to give a student is of a nature quite different from what any American, French or German university can offer." And then the writer goes on to tell us that the Oxford degree does not mean that so many dusty tomes have been digested, as that a life of "singular suggestiveness, charm and potency has been lived for at least three years." One gathers that the Oxford atmosphere makes for culture, that this culture must be absorbed, can't be boiled.

He mentions that not a few of the American Rhodes scholars have found fault with conditions that allow a man to shrink if he has a mind that way, and grants that the man may shrink for a reason, but sooner or later will have to make up for lost time—that is, if he desires to get a degree of the sort to which any honor at all attaches. At Oxford there are pass schools and honor schools, the former apparently designed for those that wish to procure a degree at very little trouble. But a pass degree is not well esteemed, and a student with any ambition at all tries for the degree in the honor schools.

The tutor system is considered a most excellent feature of Oxford life. A student beginning work of his first school is assigned to a tutor who continues his special guide and mentor until his degree is received. The tutor advises the student as to what work he ought to do, the lectures attend, and gives him a long list of books; once a week the tutor meets his group of students.

CHRIST CHURCH COLLEGE.

dents in an informal and intimate conference, where essays are read and the work discussed in a many-sided way. Here there are no personal intercourse and friendliness lacking in so many large institutions.

A student at Oxford by no means of means is allowed the freedom the American college "has. Every morning the Oxford collegian is roused by a "scout" that may be in time to keep chapel or "roller" (roll-call), and he knows that a person must keep a specified number a term in order to receive official credit of having "resided," that term. If he chooses chapel he must be his seat before the bell has ceased ringing; if he chooses roll-call he must affix his name to a piece of paper before a bell has ceased to ring. He is now prepared, "up," ready for the day's work.

In about an hour breakfast arrives, served a la carte in the student's sitting room. He may partake in solitary state, or, as usually happens, breakfast with a classmate or two. Following breakfast, a student is free to do as he pleases, but he is usually expected to attend to his studies.

The afternoon the Oxonian spends out of doors—for that is what the Englishman considers afternoon is made for. Rowing, walking, hockey, cricket, tennis, polo—many number of sports out of doors, and then another social hour, over afternoon tea, a manly "function" at Oxford. Dinner takes place in a hall, an old-time building where old-time customs obtain. In the evening a man studies or seeks diversion, as it may happen; if he desires to go out of college he must leave before nine o'clock; if he stays out later than nine it is a very dreadful offense, for which he may be "sent down." Where a trip to London, two hours away, and a theater party there, is quite out of the question. The American Rhodes scholars in residence at Oxford must have to adapt themselves to many things.

UNUSUAL OCCURRENCE.

Old Negro Commits Suicide
By Hanging

A report comes from Lafayette to the effect that Marshall Gholsen, a negro, aged about 80 years, killed himself near that place one day last week. It is said that he had a suicidal mania and about a week before, attempted to drown himself in a well. A watch had been kept upon him, but he eluded members of his family, and going to a near-by burn hanged himself to a rafter.
When found, life was extinct. It is something unusual for a negro to commit suicide in any manner.

The Old Reliable Jewelry House of Hopkinsville is, after all, the best place to get anything in the Jewelry line. There's a record behind us, a record of over thirty years; a clean record of satisfied customers, a record of honest dealing, for honest quality, honest prices. It's a record any Jeweler might feel proud of. And when we sell an article we have in mind that we have a record to maintain, and no slipshod methods, no careless workmanship, no lack of quality, is ever allowed to mar the record of the past. But to improve, if possible, this record, is ever our aim, and goods are sold for as low a price as it is possible to sell reliable goods.

It will pay you in the end to deal with the Old Reliable Jeweler.

New York Life.

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 30th, 1906.
Mr. Walter F. Garnett, Agent,
New York Life Insurance Co.,
City.

Dear Sir:—
It gives me pleasure to acknowledge receipt of statement of optional settlement on 20-Payment Life Policy, No. 228,593, for $1,000.00, issued at age 35, with premium of $52.50, taken out with you Apr. 29, '96. After having been insured for 20 years, I am offered a paid up policy for $1,500 and a cash dividend of $406.88, or the total value may be withdrawn in cash—$1,215.85, (which is more than I have paid in in the 20 years) or a fully paid up policy payable at my death for $2,219.00.

The cash settlement of $1,215.85 is equal to Term Insurance at $12.87 per $1,000 and an investment of the balance of premiums with 5 1/2 per cent. compound interest for twenty years. This showing is certainly a creditable one for the New York Life, and I will be pleased to give you my application for $1,000 on the Ordinary Life plan.

Yours very truly,
C. E. WEST.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood. It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but a new modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest of all the cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold for its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent bottles. You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING

One Or Two Important Ordinances Passed and Other Business.

BOND COUPONS BURNT.

Steps Taken To Beautify the Open Plat In Front Of S. K. C.

The City Council met in regular session Friday night with all the members present.

The Finance Committee was granted further time to look into an extension of the license system in the city.

The colored schools were given another appropriation to continue their schools beyond the six months authorized by the State. The appropriation of $750 made $1,500 paid during the present school year.

The Corporation committee reported progress in the matter of reaching a settlement with the Sewerage Co. over street repairs and was granted further time. The following day the settlement was concluded, the Sewerage Co. agreeing to repair all streets left in an unsatisfactory condition by reason of their excavations.

An ordinance was passed ordering down stone curbing and a cinder walk on N. Virginia street from a point near Fifth street north to Second street, West side.

An old bill for a fire bell striker for $137.50 with a credit of $40 for the old Striker was allowed.

Some minor repairs were ordered made on the lock-up.

Mr. E. B. Long appeared before the Council and asked that the city take charge of the triangle in front of South Kentucky College, on Ninth street, and improve and beautify it as city property. He said the college was to relinquish any right it had to the lot if the city would connect Ninth Street and Belmont street with an improved street on the north side of the lot. The matter was referred to the street Committee with power to act.

Councilmen Davis and Ware were appointed a committee to destroy 122 coupons of railroad bonds paid last month. They were burned.

HADDOCK ITEMS.

Numerous Personals And Other Matters Of Interest

Haddock, Ky., May 18.—The farmers are all very busy preparing tobacco ground at this writing.

Mrs. Fount Meacham and Mrs. Jim Cannon, of your city, are visiting their father Mr. C. W. Jarman this week.

The dam of the lake will be completed Saturday.

Mr. Miller, of Sinking Fork, spent last Sunday with Miss Pearl Haddock and attended Church at Wolf's Chapel.

Mrs. Hiram Henderson is visiting the family of Mr. G. L. Fruit this week.

Miss Mada Hill, who has been right sick for the past week, is very much improved at this writing.

Mrs. Lisa King visited her old home last Sunday.

Here For Treatment.

George Major is now at the home of his father-in-law, Dr. Kenner. He arrived Saturday from Earlinton where he has been working in the machine shops of the L. & N. Several days ago, while at work he was struck in the eye by a flying piece of steel, which may cause him to lose the sight of that eye. After the accident he was taken to a hospital at Evansville and the piece of steel removed. Then he was taken back to Earlinton for treatment by the company's physician. While here he will be in charge of local physicians.

Will Lose A Hand.

Mr. Hiram Moore, a gauger in the revenue service, who formerly lived in Hopkinsville, had his hand caught in some machinery at the Davies County distillery and the member was so badly lacerated that amputation will probably be necessary.

The Biggest One Yet

There is now being placed in position in the Forbes Co's planing mill the biggest thing in the way of a planer ever seen in this locality. It dresses 40,000 feet of lumber daily. Though it weighs 23,000 lbs. it was hauled to its permanent resting place on a Mogul wagon.

BEHIND THE BARS.

Party From Hopkinsville Spent Sunday in Eddyville.

A party of ladies and gentlemen of this city went down to Eddyville Sunday with Mr. Fredenhagen and held a service in the chapel of the prison. The chapel was crowded and the service was entered into with zeal by the two Endeavor Societies and the other men of the prison. Warden Hagerman and his estimable wife extended, as they always do, every courtesy and made the day highly enjoyable to the visitors. Mr. Woodson, the prison chaplain, was on hand and lent his valuable assistance in making the meeting quite a success. Many improvements and needed changes have been made about the building since the meeting held there last Christmas day. The men behind the bars are in excellent health, are contented with the kind treatment of the warden and the efforts of the commissioners to render them comfortable.

A Year of Blood.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tackett, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood, which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tackett's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes, "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me at death's door, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astonishing result that after taking four bottles I was completely restored and, as time has proven, completely cured." Guaranteed for sore lungs, coughs and colds at R. C. Hardwick's drug store. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

New Turn at Vesuvius.

The Vesuvius region was again inundated Sunday by a torrential rain, which fell so heavily that a mighty river is now coursing down the side of the volcano, carrying everything before it, and sweeping trees, lava, houses and animals out of its path. The torrent, which is composed in part of mud, cinders and ashes, is about twelve feet wide, and some places as much as eighteen feet deep. Two deaths have already been recorded, a man and a boy having been drowned.

BY WARM WINTER.

Hopkinsville Plumber Takes Benefits of Bankruptcy Laws.

Tradition was upset yesterday when a plumber filed a petition in bankruptcy. The only explanation offered is that the past rather warm winter gave too little opportunity for them to get their usual charges.

The petitioner is Eldridge Talman Libby, a plumber and timer. He has thirty-four creditors, of whom twelve live in Hopkinsville and the others in Louisville, New York, Detroit, Chicago, and Evansville. His total indebtedness amounts to $1,500. The assets given are real estate $32; stock $900; and one-half interest in $500 worth of old accounts. No claim of exemption has yet been filed but one will be filed later with the referee. —Owensboro Messenger.

Illustrated Lecture.

The Baptist church was filled Sunday night to its utmost capacity to hear Rev. Fredenhagen's illustrated lecture on prison work. Many important facts were given to his hearers, but unfortunately the stereopticon refused to work about three-fourths of the pictures. It is a notable fact that Kentucky leads every other State in this kind of work, and the other States keep their eyes on us for suggestions as to the betterment of criminals while in prison and assisting those who are discharged to find a way of becoming better citizens. The fact that the better and surer way is to become Christians is recognized and this is really the great work of prison reformers.

At Murray.

The annual convention of South Kentucky Christian Missionary and Sunday School Association will meet to-day at Murray, for a three days session. The territory embraces all of West Kentucky from Bowling Green. Rev. W. J. Hudspeth is the Association evangelist. Rev. H. D. Smith, Mrs. Lizzie Seargent, Mrs. J. Cook, Mrs. Eliza Clark and Mrs. J. R. Armstead will represent the local church. Some of the delegation went to Murray yesterday and the others will leave to-day.

Forest Fires.

The forest fires in North Michigan have almost swept blank an area of 100 square miles. So far as known only four lives have been lost. It is impossible to tell at present what the property loss will be, but it is very heavy. Four towns have been wiped off the map, a dozen partly destroyed and five counties devastated by the flames.

RIP OF A DRYDOCK

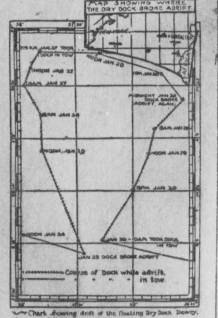

THRILLING EXPERIENCES OF THE "DEWEY."

Huge Steel Tank Being Towed to Philippines Meets Storms and Heavy Seas and Drifts Helpless for Many Days.

When the voyage of the drydock Dewey is completed and she is safe in the harbor of Manila, the story of her adventures across the Atlantic, through the Mediterranean, the Suez canal, and down through the Red sea and the Indian ocean, will be one of the most interesting and thrilling ever read. That is, if the latter part of the journey is as exciting as has been the trip to the Canary Islands, a point reached only after a fight against wind and wave and storm of nearly two months.

No one, not even the personnel of the towing fleet, anticipated the unusual length of the voyage across the Atlantic. Even the northeast trade wind seemed to have come further northward than usual at this time of the year to make the voyage more of a struggle. Trials the towing ships and drydock have had in plenty. Stormy days with gales and heavy rains and rough seas; nights when towlines parted or had to be let go and hauled in, while the rain and wind and darkness made the task of handling the large and unwieldy hawser arduous. Yet not one of the officers or crew of the towing fleet or drydock doubts that they will bring the dock safely to her destination.

The most trying experience came when the dock broke from her tows and for three days drifted to the northwest, going 108 miles out of her course. During this time the wireless telegraph instruments enabled them to keep track of each other, and served to keep the crew on the helpless huge steel trough hopeful and cheerful. In the early part of the trip after leaving Chesapeake bay there had been gales that had made progress slow. Then pleasant weather followed and a speed of five knots an hour was made during most of the time, a record of 110 miles being made on one day. But just when Commander Hosley and the captains of the Brutus and Caesar were congratulating themselves on the favorable progress, a violent storm blew up on the night of the 24th. The towing machines of the Caesar became disabled, and she was obliged to cast off her line. The Glacier, the flagship of the towing flotilla, attempted to take her place but she steered very badly in the heavy seas, going as she was at slow speed, and the tow line was cast off. This left the Brutus with a heavy task and she soon was obliged to flash the signal "Hawser carried away." Followed a few minutes later by the message: "Towing machine a total wreck. Wire hawser went by board and carried away, leaving about 40 feet on drum of towing machine."

Just how the men on board the drydock must have felt as they realized that they were drifting helplessly on the raging billows of the Atlantic it is hard to imagine. For three days there was nothing to do but listen to the pounding of the waves and wait until weather conditions were such that a new line could be connected up. This was accomplished with the aid of the Potomac, another of the boats of the flotilla, and a lifeboat from the Glacier, and the Brutus swung to the east again with her charge. All went well until midnight of the following day, when the line parted again, and the dock began to drift to the southeast, the dock having shifted.

Our map shows by the broken lines the wide detour which was made in the two drifts. One of the singular things in connection with the experience was that the dock when she was finally taken in tow for the second time was only 30 miles from the point where she had first started adrift.

One of the interesting features of the expedition was the successful use of wireless telegraphy. Communication by this method was sustained with the United States for a distance of more than 1,400 miles, a distance seldom if ever equaled where no extra installment was made for a special trial.

The last message received on board the Glacier direct from the United States came from the station at Cape Hatteras on January 15, when the Glacier was over 1,400 miles distant. The message came clear and distinct to the operator, Mr. Merritt, and was as follows: "You came in very loud tonight. Has been cold with alternate rain and snow all day. New York is cold and clear to day. How long are we going to keep you? Good night—Hatteras."

A Little Care Will Save Many Hopkingsville Readers Future Trouble.

Watch the kidney secretions. See that they have the amber hue of health.

The discharges not excessive or infrequent. Contain no "brick-dust like" sediment.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do this for you.

They watch the kidneys and cure them when they're sick.

Hopkingsville testimony proves it. W. Tunks, of 312 W. Seventh St., who is employed at W. C. Forbes' planing mill, says: "The condition of my health was such as to cause me a great deal of worry about my future. I had an almost constant aching across the small of my back and the kidney secretions were highly colored, excessive and irregular, in fact, the disorder was so pronounced that it had been said it bordered on diabetes. I also suffered at times with indigestion which caused me a great deal of distress. At one time I was scarcely able to do any work at all for nearly a year. I doctored and tried various remedies but nothing did me any permanent good until I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at L. A. Johnson's drug store. I had them only a few days when I noticed a change for the better and almost at the time I had finished the box I found they had brought about so decided an improvement in my condition as to convince me of their real worth and I am more than thankful for the relief that I have received."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

It Is Dangerous to Neglect a Cold.

How often do we hear it remarked "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and has gained its great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cures of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take. For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up-to-date druggists of Hopkinsville.

ELECTION CONTEST.

Suit Filed Here Asking for Perpetual Injunction.

Dr. E. S. Stuart and Wallace L. Layne, through their attorneys, Landes & Stites and John Feland, on Saturday morning filed suit here against Messrs. J. W. Petrie, Jr., Ed Fritz, C. G. Vass, M. R. Tandy, J. C. Layne and John L. Carroll, the new trustees of the Fairview graded school, and Prof. W. E. Gray, county superintendent of schools, contesting the election recently held at Fairview, in which the proposition for a graded school for that place was carried by a majority of three.

Plaintiffs ask that a perpetual injunction be granted, restraining the trustees from assessing or collecting taxes or organizing the proposed school. Defects in the petition as filed in the county court for the establishment of a graded school district are chiefly relied on by the contestants.

The case will come up for hearing at the June term of circuit court.

CENTENARIAN DEAD.

Negro Woman Whose Age Was Said to Be 107.

Rose Inman, colored, the oldest patient in the Western asylum, died Saturday of senility. She was said to be 107 years old, though her exact age was not well authenticated. She was committed to the asylum in 1886 and at that time her age was given as "about 71 years." She was from this county and was quite a character around the asylum. She was harmless and her great hobby was the "Seesh," as she remembered them from war times.

Made Happy for Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent at St. Albans, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. He says "My little daughter had St. Vitus' Dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew steadily worse until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters, and I rejoice to say three bottles effected a complete cure." Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weakness, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by R. C. Hardwick's drug store. Price 50c.

ASSOCIATIONS UNITE.

Kentucky and Tennessee Combine With Virginia.

The Dark Tobacco District Planters' Protective Association of Kentucky and Tennessee and the Virginia association have combined, the amalgamation taking place at Farmville, Va., last week J. E. Garner, of Springfield, Tenn., recently appointed Assistant General Manager of the Association, and Mr. Claypool, of this State, attended the meeting in Farmville, when the consolidation took place. Salesmen have been appointed in Virginia and the prospects are very flattering, as well as here.

Association tobacco is very much in demand and is being sold as fast as the types can be gotten ready, buyers from all the markets are here and prices are satisfactory to the planter, being much more than they have received for several years.

FIGHT THISTLES

Or Let the Fine be Imposed—Menace to Farm Lands.

The grand jury soon to meet should take steps to vigorously prosecute all land owners who fail to destroy Canada thistles on their farms. They are getting everywhere and are seen growing by the roadside on many fine farms. There is a law making it a fine to let one go to seed and while they will not bloom before late summer, the thistles can be much more easily destroyed now if the people are brought to realize that they will be punished for neglecting to cut them. Farmers should take a day off and cut them inside and outside their fields. The thistle is a large bushy-growing weed of very dark green foliage, with serrated leaves covered with stiff briars or stickers all over. It grows as high as a man's head and produces purple blossoms in a pod-like formation. The seed form in the pod with attachments like the wings of white butterflies and float through the air, sometimes being carried a mile by the winds. They sprout and form new plants before the season is over and remain green all winter and are

PATTERSON A WINNER.

Bob Taylor's Candidate Will Be the Next Governor.

Nashville, Tenn., May 21.—Five counties acted on the Governorship Saturday, leaving only one, Hamblen, to act on the 22nd. Patterson carried Williamson, Stewart and Trousdale, and his manager claims Maury also. It is not unlikely that two delegations will come from Maury. Loudon did not instruct. Patterson seems by Saturday's results to have very much the best chance for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Tennessee.
